

Courage

Courage allows you to live life to the fullest. It allows you to be the best you can be.

The Oxford American Dictionary defines courage as "the ability to disregard fear; bravery."

We all admire the person who has the courage to live his convictions. Why not be that person? Why not face the fear and eliminate the fear? Why not live your life? Why not take the action required?

Courage combined with action makes our life all it can be. Be the best you can be is the way to live and enjoy life. It is the way to learn and grow. It is the way to have fun. It is the way to be satisfied at the end of each day.

Courage to do also builds confidence. Once you do it you build confidence and each successive time you do it your confidence grows. Soon what was feared has become a habit that you repeat at will. Then it is time to move on to a new challenge, to a new test of your courage.

It takes courage to admit a mistake. In so doing we gain the respect of others. In so doing we are acknowledging what others may well be thinking. We all make mistakes but not enough of us admit the mistake and move forward. Yes, admit it, declare it, and then continue to be the best.

A mistake is as good as the lesson it teaches. It's ok to make a mistake as long as one doesn't make the same one twice. Courage to take the first step, intelligence to take it wisely.

People will and do admire courage. People respect those who have the courage to do and enjoy being associated with them.

You already have courage. You were born with courage. Now all you need to do is dust it off and use it. The more you use your courage the more it will grow. The more it grows the more others will notice and respect it. The more courage, the more you will accomplish, and the more satisfied you will be.

When is the best time to use our courage? Today! Today you can do one thing with courage. Tomorrow you may well do it again. Use your courage today to start that which you want to start. Today is the day your courage can overcome your fear. It is as simple as taking action.

We can think about something forever or we can act. Only in the acting, in the doing, are we going to see and feel the courage. Start today. You will be glad you did.
